Yes, at first glance it is "just a book"... Some cardboard and paper...

But...YOU made this, you are the one who created the book!

The story, all the words, the photos, the events, the memories, the love, your friends, your family, your loved ones...

People who create a book for their own sake get to experience a very unique feeling when receiving the book. The ones who also share their book or even give a book as a gift, will experience an even greater feeling...

We sometimes try to describe that feeling, but, it is nearly impossible to describe these emotions.

YOU, the one who actually made the book, are the one who can define this experience the best - thank you for sharing!

Amazing Company, Great Product.

I had the best experience with Solentro, I had worked on a book for months on end and had full creativity through the whole process. I had trouble with formatting the text correctly, but with trial and error I worked with it to get the final edit I wanted. The book shipped in 2 weeks, it was better than I had imagined, I was really worried despite reviews that it would come out all wrong. The worry was immediately replaced with joy! When it arrived I was still nervous, but upon opening it I was overwhelmed. From the colors of the images, to the clarity in the photos and of the text, the pages were perfect! Exactly how I had created them! Nothing misaligned or misprinted, no smeared ink and the credits on the back of book small enough to still leave my book looking amazing! Beyond excited to gift this to my fiance!

Great news for people who read books!

* Reading in print helps with comprehension.

* Reading long sentences without links is a skill you need – but can lose if you don't practice.

* Reading in a slow, focused, undistracted way is good for your brain.
