Make a photo book to your child

Many of our customers are making books of their child's first year or just putting a bunch of cute photos together into a beautiful photo book!

Did you know that a study made by David Krauss, a psychologist in Cleveland, shows that hanging family portraits on the wall raises children's self-esteem? Krauss recommends having photographs of the child placed in the child's bedroom to send the signal "You are important and loved".

We believe that a photo book with pictures of your child will have a similiar effect as a picture on the wall - start making your own book now!
